Nomination of Mr. Greenaway.

The primary election yesterday resulted in the nomination of Mr. N. S. Greenaway as the democratic candidate for Clerk of the Corporation and Circuit Courts of this city. The nomination is equivalent to election. As was intimated in the Gazette yesterday, the two candidates—Mr. Greenaway and Mr. Charles Bendheim—ran neck and neck, and the first named won by a nose only. The interest was unparalleled in the political history of this city, and the large vote since the adoption of the new constitution was cast. Mr. Greenaway had but 52 majority; it therefore required the change of but 27 votes to have elected Mr. Bendheim.

The vote by wards was as follows: First ward, Greenaway, 183; Bendheim, 154; Second ward, Greenaway, 170; Bendheim, 214; Third ward, Greenaway, 162; Bendheim, 115; Fourth ward, Greenaway, 145; Bendheim, 129.

The vote in the city was as follows:

Candidates.	First ward.	Second ward.	Third ward.	Fourth ward.	Total.
Greenaway	183	170	162	145	660
Bendheim	154	214	115	129	612
Thrown out	3	5	1	9	18

The total vote cast was 1,277.

The polls were closed at 6 o'clock and almost before the stars in the sky were visible the result had been announced. There was no unseemly exultation upon the part of the successful wing of the democratic party, nor did those who had centered upon Mr. Bendheim exhibit any unnecessary pique because the services of their candidates had been declined.

Shortly after the result had become known several of Mr. Greenaway's supporters telephoned to Washington for the naval gun factory band, and that organization arrived here on the electric railway early in the night. A procession was formed and after the successful candidate had been serenaded at his home on north Columbus street the principal streets were paraded and the victory celebrated with music, red fire and cheers. But so far as could be seen, there was no undue exuberance nor attempts to irritate those who had supported the unsuccessful candidate.

In the contest for magistrate in the Second ward Mr. William A. Moore, Jr., defeated Mr. Frank Mason by a vote of 226 to 152, and Mr. Harvey Robinson was nominated for constable without opposition.

Trolley Trip.

The new ferry steamer Woodbury, which the Harlan and Hollingsworth Corporation of Wilmington, Del., is building for the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company for use on the ferry route between this city and Washington, had a dock trial of her boiler and engines Tuesday last, and it is stated the trial was satisfactory in every particular. The new steamer will be ready for her speed trials next week, and on October 28 will be turned over by the builders to her owners. The steamer will at once leave Wilmington, and will begin service on the ferry route November 1. This date for the beginning of the new ferry route has been definitely fixed by Manager Callahan. There will be but one steamer in service for the present, and she is to make hourly trips from each end of the route. According to the schedule arranged, the steamer will leave Alexandria on the hour from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m., and from Washington she will leave on the half hour from 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. No night trips will be made as the schedule is now arranged. The steamer is expected to make the run between the cities in twenty minutes, allowing ten minutes at each end to unload and load passengers and teams. The rate of fare adopted will be the same as that of the former ferry company, ten cents one way, or fifteen cents for the round trip, with a liberal discount for commutation tickets. A rate for wagons and freight satisfactory to the Alexandria merchants has, it is stated, been arranged.

Knights Have a Field Day.

The various commanderies of the Knights Templar of the District of Columbia held their first annual field day at the country home of Mr. John R. McLean, on Tenleytown road, yesterday. The programme consisted of an inspection, competitive drills, a review and dress parade. In addition to the members of the local commanderies who were present, the exercises were witnessed by many notables in Masonic affairs throughout the country. The delegates to the Scottish Rite convention, beginning Monday together with prominent visiting members of the order who are attending the bankers' convention, watched the drills. A number of Sir Knights of this city were present.

Pool Room Cases.

Arthur Wall, president of the Maryland Telegraph Company, under the charter of which, it is claimed, the Kenilworth poolroom, Prince George's county, Md., was conducted last spring and early summer, and Percy T. Humphrey, the owner of the building in which the poolroom was located, appeared in the Circuit Court at Upper Marlboro, yesterday, on bench warrants issued as the result of five indictments filed by the grand jury against Wall for making books on horse races at the Kenilworth poolrooms, and one indictment against Humphrey, who is charged with renting the building for selling pools. The cases were set for trial on Wednesday next.

Suspicious Characters.

The only cases before the Police Court this morning were those of Newport Walker and William McCoy, both colored, who were arrested by Lieutenant Officer Beach as suspicious characters. McCoy, it is alleged, has recently served a term in the penitentiary for passing a man in another city. He was dismissed with the understanding that they were to leave the city, never to return.

Opera House.

The J. L. Tempest Dramatic Company presented "The Lighthouse Tragedy" at the Opera House last night to a good-sized audience, which heartily enjoyed the play. The drama contained many thrilling climaxes and was interesting throughout. The specialties were excellent. Tonight the company will produce the well-known drama, "East Lynne," which they were requested to play by a large number of people. This company presented the play here last year in a masterly style and an excellent performance is expected tonight. A matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the attraction being "The Bachelor's Twins," a farce comedy. A beautiful gold watch and chain will be given to the one holding the lucky number. The attraction tomorrow night will be the melodrama, "A Vagabond's Wife."

Bankers' Excursion.

Over 500 members of the visiting bankers and their relatives and friends were the guests of the Washington bankers on the steamer Norfolk, of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, yesterday, and made a trip from Washington on the Potomac river as far as Marshall Hall. The Norfolk was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and a band of music and luncheon were features of the trip. The boat left the Washington wharf at 2:30 with flags flying and music playing, steamed by this city and proceeded to a point a short distance below Marshall Hall, and returned to Washington arriving about 4:30.

Charged with Assault.

Officer Beach arrested a young man named Henry Smith this morning on complaint of a man named Nowland, who charged Smith, while in charge of a team, with attempting to run over him. The plaintiff also said that when he remonstrated with Smith, the latter produced a knife and threatened to use the same. Smith was taken to the station-house and released on $10 collateral for his appearance tomorrow morning. He denies the charges alleged against him.

Death of Mrs. Jeffers.

Mrs. Elona Jeffers, widow of Stephen A. Jeffers and mother of Rev. J. A. Jeffers, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church in this city, died at her home in Camden, N. J., on Wednesday, aged 67 years. Her funeral will take place from her late home tomorrow evening. Mr. Jeffers has the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city in his sad bereavement.

Charged With Theft.

Officers Henderson and Mayhugh this morning arrested two colored men named Dan Craig and Eugene Parker charged with entering the house of Eli Dove, in the northwestern section of the city and stealing a clock. They will be arraigned in the Police Court tomorrow morning.

The Cold Wave.

The temperature last night was cold and kept many people within doors. There had been no material change in conditions this morning, but as the day advanced the weather became more moderate, the northwest wind having abated.

Milk Dealers.

The fall meeting of the Milk Producers' Association of Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia was held Wednesday in Washington, at which important business was transacted affecting the milk trade of the city. Among other things, it was decided that the price of milk and cream for six months, beginning November 1, should be the same as last year, 18 cents a gallon for milk and 70 cents a gallon for cream. Mr. James W. Roberts, of Fairfax county, was elected president.

Circus in Town.

The Cole & Rogers Show arrived in this city this morning and immediately began putting up their tents on the old fair grounds. The grounds have been visited by a large number of persons today, and the afternoon performance was witnessed by a large crowd, who seemed to enjoy the entertainment, which was of a high class. The show gave a parade today which was witnessed by crowds of people. Another performance will be given tonight.

Giants Win Their Second Game. Baseball frappe, for overcoat baseball and likewise baseball lingering in the lap of football, was played in Philadelphia yesterday in the third game of the world's championship series, and the Philadelphia American League champions were frozen out by the New York National League champions. Not only were the Phillies frozen out, but they were shut out by the New Yorks, outplayed in the fundamentals and the fine points of the game, and humbled by the top-heavy score of 9 to 0. Christy Mathewson, the pitching king, again twirled New York to victory. Thus far, with Mathewson pitching, the Athletics and the home plate are strangers. The Phillies did not come as near to that goal yesterday as they did Monday. They managed to make two of their four hits in one inning, but they could not forward a base runner beyond second base. Second base was the hollow zenith of their endeavors.

Sensational Suicide. With a hundred or more persons, 20 of whom were women, looking on, a man leaped from the platform on the downtown side of the "L" station at Third and Ninth streets, New York, yesterday afternoon, and was ground to death beneath the wheels of a south-bound local train. The women screamed with horror and several of them fainted. The man, who is thought to be John Flynn, living in the Bronx, came hurriedly to the steps leading to the station as the south-bound train drew up toward the station, and when the front car was with in 20 feet of him deliberately threw himself across the rails. The motorman was unable to stop the train. He was arrested.

Increasing Demand. It is most gratifying to note the steadily increasing demand for Fairfax farms and village property. Buyers are coming this way every day, attracted by the many advantages of this section—advantages which cannot be duplicated elsewhere. For a comparatively small amount of money a good home can be secured, within easy reach of splendid markets and convenient to railroad transportation. The climate, the water, the quality of the soil, the schools, churches and all modern accessories to delightful existence combine to make this an ideal place for the home-seeker. [Fairfax Herald.]

CARD OF THANKS. The King's Daughters of Grace Church hereby extend their sincere thanks and hearty appreciation of the aid given them in their recent concert, to the musicians, who in their several roles contributed to render it a success in point of music, the audience, who testified their enjoyment by their rapt attention and enthusiastic applause, we thank for the same, as well as the substantial support given to render it a financial success. Also we heartily thank Miss Lett Steiner, who proved so valuable an assistant in many ways and executed so admirably the various duties assigned to her as well as delighted all who heard her music.

A Street Scene, Bombay. A man clad only in a yellow scarf and turban opens a mouth stained with the vivid vermilion of betel juice to show that the mango seed just swallowed has already become a small tree with green leaves pushing toward the light. A woman appears next upon the scene, bringing a crying baby in a closed hamper of bamboo. A dozen swords are instantly thrust through the interstices amid the ear piercing yells of the supposed victim, but as soon as the formidable blades are withdrawn the nine lived infant tumbles out of the basket and salaams to the assembled audience, holding out her tiny brown hand for the well-deserved backslaps.

As the fun waxes fast and furious sundry quarrels and recriminations between the rival magicians attract the intervention of the native police, who, "dressed in a little brief authority," symbolized by red turban and blue tunic, soon disperse the performers, bag and baggage, hastening the enforced departure with unlimited kicks and thumps, submissively received.

Peter the Great and Lawyers. In Russia during the reign of Peter the Great private litigants might have their suits prosecuted free of cost by lawyers paid by the state. The emperor, discovering that his subjects were being imposed upon by their legal agents, who contrived to delay trials until they had sucked their clients dry, enacted that sufficient solicitors and attorneys should be employed at handsome yearly salaries to officiate for the public in every matter of law. He ordered further that these men should insert in a register written up daily the dates of applications to them and should proceed with the suits in the order in which they were received without respect of persons. If they failed to do so, if they accepted any bribe or fee or if they were dilatory these lawyers were to be knouted and sent to Siberia.

The Surgeon's Nightmare. Two patients who called in company upon a noted surgeon found him bemoaning a twinge of pain in his right forehead. The callers smiled. "Great Scott, doctor," exclaimed one, "you don't mean to say that a pain in the finger bothers a man so used to scenes of suffering as yourself?"

"It certainly does," the surgeon answered, with a worried look. "How do I know that it isn't the first symptom of blood poisoning? That is the nightmare of the surgeon. No matter how careful he may be, he is liable to contract poisoning in operating, and that kind of poisoning is of the most virulent type. Any time a surgeon is complaining about a pain in the hand sympathize with him, for he is doing some hard guessing."—Philadelphia Record.
